Excellent Good Order. had spent ten years in practical engineering, after his graduation from the Massachusetts Institute of Technology, and brought into the insurance field the exact training and spirit of the true engineer. On the death of Mr. Whiting, in 1894, Mr. Freeman was made Chief of the Department, and began building on the excellent foundation which had been laid, contributing much which has given breadth and thoroughness to the inspection work in its later developments. It is growth along these sound lines, led by a few men, and carried on by many, which has made the Mutual system truly the father of all fire-protection engineering. One of the first steps in this work was to develop a more accurate method of testing pumps and public water systems, so that the true capacity could be ascertained. It was found that the only tables giving discharge of hose-nozzles were inaccurate, and an elaborate series of tests was made at Lawrence. Nozzles of all kinds were tried, the streams being thrown up between two high mills, the pressure at the nozzle noted, the quantity discharged...
